Congressional Art Competition Submissions Now on Display at Juniata College

Washington, D.C. – Congressman Bill Shuster is pleased to announce that the pieces of artwork selected to compete in the 2009 Congressional Art Competition are now on display at Juniata College.

The art competition will officially begin this Friday and the pieces will be showcased until April 10th in the lobby of the Suzanne von Liebig Theatre located in the Halbritter Center at Juniata College.

Each year, high schools throughout the 9th district are invited to take part in the annual Congressional Art Competition. This unique event provides Members of Congress with the opportunity to showcase the diverse artistic talents of high school students throughout their congressional districts. For this year's competition, Shuster is partnering with Juniata College to showcase the 9th district's entries.

The winning student will be invited to attend a Congressional Art Competition Reception in Washington, DC on June 24th and their winning entry will be showcased in the Capitol Complex.
